Form of citation

Material in the Sudan Archive is given a reference number, which is unique across the collections of papers. Usually it is not necessary to give the name of the person or organisation within which collection the item is found, although it may be convenient to do so.
The short form of citation should be GB-0033-SAD reference number
Most printed references take the form: SAD reference number.

To order items in the searchroom, use the collection reference code(s), derived by removing the repository code (GB-0033-), followed by the reference number. Citing the section of the finding aid is useful.

SAD.433/187/1-31 1896 Jul 11-1928 Jan 13
Letters from Harriet Phipps and P.R. Phipps, mostly concerning social engagements and personal news, although the earlier letters written by P.R. Phipps during the period 1914-1916 make frequent reference to the social impact of the First World War. A letter dated 6 December 1914 includes a long list of “our old friends” already killed or wounded (SAD.433/187/4). Reference is also made to Sudanese and Egyptian affairs in later letters, for example the letter dated 5 April 1922 (SAD.433/187/18). A series of letters from 1928 are also included, chiefly between P.R. Phipps and Edward Fothergill in which the latter is accused of authorising an article which refers to Slatin in “uncomplimentary terms” (SAD.433/187/19-28).

Letters and one telegram from Milo Talbot. There is some reference to Sudanese affairs in an early letter dated from 1899, in which Talbot warns Slatin against contemplating legal proceedings during a controversy surrounding a stolen document (SAD.433/195/1), although much of the correspondence is predominantly written during the First World War. Talbot writes with an air of despondency of the “wretched war” throughout his correspondence and bemoans the loss of many of his friends (SAD.433/195/5-6). Further letters make reference to various campaigns in the war and he is also very pessimistic of the chances of international harmony after the war is over, see SAD.433/195/9

SAD.452/302/1-21 28 Feb 1894-30 Jun 1927
Letters from various correspondents in German and English. The English correspondence include a translation of a letter written by the Khalifa Abdullahi to Slatin Pasha, in reply to a letter addressed to him by Slatin some days after his arrival in Cairo from Ombdurman, in which the Khalifa is pleased to hear that Slatin still adheres to the Islamic Faith and that he should take “the necessary stratagem” to infiltrate the “infidels” and put them at a disadvantage, with an annotation stating that Slatin's original letter to the Khalifa was written “more in jest” than in seriousness in attempting to trick the Khalifa into believing that he was still a Mahdist “in order that the servants he had been obliged to leave behind him in Ombdurman might not be ill-treated ” (SAD 452/302/2); letters from Sir James Reid to Slatin, including a letter in Sept 1898 congratulating Slatin on his role in the capture of Omdurman and commiserating him on his failure to catch the Khalifa, which would have been a “most striking psychological moment”, and the desire of the Queen for Slatin to write a full account of the battle (SAD 452/302/3); and a letter dated 16 Jan 1899 from Reid expressing his disappointment with the stubborn attitude of the authorities over Slatin's pension (SAD 452/302/5); a telegram from J.K. Watson informing Slatin that he has killed the Khalifa (SAD 452/302/9); as well as rough drafts of letters written by Slatin (SAD 452/302/22-26);

SAD.452/302/27-31 1909-1929
